Tax Increase As Emergency Is Discussed

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—President Truman discussed with congressional leaders today the advisability of an immediate, emergency tax increase on both individual incomes and business firms.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told reporters after the White House conference that the matter was "still in the conversation stage."

But in any case a long-range tax bill, possibly including an excess profits tax, is likely to be taken up later in the year or early next year, Rayburn said.

Negotiations Depend On U. S.

Halting Of N. Koreans Could Induce Peace

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—Prospects for some new diplomatic negotiation to end the Korean war appear now to hinge on the outcome of the American army effort to stabilize the front.

The critical point at which Russia's real intentions toward the Korean fighting will be disclosed, American officials believe, will come when and if the Red advance is brought to a standstill.

Russia must then realize, they say, that without powerful outside assistance the Korean Communists will be unable to hold their gains and will be confronted with the threat of ultimate defeat.

At that time, according to this line of reasoning, the world will probably find out quickly whether there is to be an end to aggression and return of peace in Korea or whether the danger of a great war will increase.

Top officials here believe the major decisions on Russia's course have been under study in the Kremlin since the middle of last week.

Two things happened at that time. One was President Truman's message to Congress, calling for $10,000,000,000 down payment on an expanded military program and warning Russia that a series of limited aggressions of the Korean type might well bring on World War III.

The other development was the failure of Indian Prime Minister Nehru's effort to create conditions for a negotiated settlement.

Cyclist Hurt When Vehicle Hits Cars

A Lisbon motorcyclist suffered lacerations of the left leg and arm at 8:40 a. m. today when his vehicle collided with two parked cars near the intersection of S. Ellsworth and Franklin st.

Police said the motorcycle, operated by Raymond Gorbey of R. D. 4, Lisbon, veered to the left at the intersection to avoid hitting a Famous Dairy truck operated by Fred Roth of R. D. 1, Beloit.

The bike slid over on its right side and hit into the left fenders of the two parked cars owned by Edward Roberts of 427 S. Union ave. and C. H. White of 147 W. 14th st., then skidded to the center of the street and stopped.

Car, Truck Collide

The car driven by Martin Paulin of 710 Arch st. collided with the truck operated by John Weber of 252 W. 7th st. at 2 p. m. Sunday as the truck was being driven away from a parking space at 375 E. State st.

Cars operated by Marie Clark of Mineral Ridge and L. Frank Smith of R. D. 4, Salem, collided at 5:44 E. Pershing st. at 10:15 a. m. Saturday. Police said the mishap occurred when the Clark auto was stopped on E. State st. in preparation of pulling into a parking area.

TREATED FOR DOG BITE

Edward Cibula, 15, of R. D. 4, Salem was treated at City Hospital Sunday night after he was bitten by a dog at 11 p. m. near his home. He received a two-inch laceration of his right hand.

34 Servicemen Die In Flaming Plane Crash

National Guardsmen Victims Of Tragedy In South Carolina

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C., July 24—(AP)—Thirty-four servicemen were killed when a big air force transport carrying national guardsmen from war games hurtled into swamplands and burned near here today.

Aboard the C-46 were 30 passenger and a four-man crew from Miami.

Minutes after the C-46 climbed from the municipal airport here it plunged into the pine-spotted muckland. The servicemen were still within sight of the airport until just before the ship crashed.

Towering, gasoline-fed flames pushed would-be rescuers back. Helpless, they watched the cremation. When the flames died, white-jacketed army medical corpsmen began removing the bodies. Late last night, they had recovered 15. The others were trapped in buried, charred wreckage.

Bits of the big transport were flung in a 100-yard circle. The wings were still further away.

There were conflicting reports about the crash. Some said the plane seemed to explode in mid-air. But a pilot who flew over the Carolina swampland said the ship didn't blow up until it struck.

At Nashville Sunday dinners were interrupted by a terse broadcast that a plane-load of homeward-bound guardsmen had crashed.

Families and sweethearts raced out to the Tennessee air national guard base. The clustered—some weeping, others white-faced and silent.

A plane landed, bringing with it returning guardsmen. The clusters broke. People ran to the plane. For some there were tears and shouts of joy. When the last of the returning planes landed, people took up their vigil there and at the state capitol. Later, many were told their loved ones were dead.

Capt. W. P. Vandiver of Birmingham, Ala., a medical officer from Shaw Field in Sumter, S. C., said bodies already removed were badly mutilated.

Manpower Reviewed

This time, he said, existing government agencies and departments will be expected to carry the load.

Symington also said there would be an effort this time to avoid the "piecemeal basis" of emergency measures used in World War II.

"Manpower shortage in this emergency will be more pressing than ever before," he said, although the present bill apparently involves no such authority.

"There will be military demands on the men and women working in the factories, on the farms, and in such fields as transportation," he continued, "Also, however, there is a great need additional manpower requirement which for the first time has become very real and practical to the security of the United States in this air-atomic age—civil defense."

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the senate committee announced his group would act with speed. He said Bernard Baruch, veteran financier and volunteer adviser to government, would testify Wednesday.

Under the administration bill the government could order factories to give first priority to any military needs. That would mean airplanes, tanks and guns ahead of automobiles, household appliances or other civilian goods.

7 Persons Hurt In Car Mishaps

2 Route 30 Accidents Involve Four Cars

A man and his wife are in Salem City Hospital and five other people are in East Liverpool Hospital following two area weekend accidents, the state highway patrol reported.

Joseph Fresvik, 46, and his wife, Mildred, 39, of Washington, D. C., were taken to City Hospital as a result of a two-car accident at 6:16 p. m. Saturday on Route 30, five miles west of Lisbon.

Fresvik suffered lacerations of the face, contusions of the leg and abrasions of the arm. His wife has lacerations of the face and arm and injuries to her left shoulder and chest.

State patrolmen said Russell E. Cehrs, 44, of R. D. 4, Lisbon, made a left turn in front of the car driven by Fresvik. Cehrs suffered lacerations of the forehead and chin in the accident but did not require hospitalization.

He was arrested for reckless operation. The right front of both cars were damaged.

Passengers Injured

Passengers in both cars were injured in a highway accident at 8:30 p. m. Saturday on Route 30, eight miles north of East Liverpool. Patrolmen reported Avery Wilkins, 34, of Payette, Idaho, was turning into a driveway when his car was struck by a car operated by Odell Otto, 37, of Baltimore, Md.

Otto suffered lacerations of the head and a bruised arm. Harriett Otto, 31, has a lacerated forehead and Sherman Otto, 1½, received contusions of the head.

Passengers in the Wilkins car, Oscar Wilkins, 61 and Clara Wilkins, 57, both received a fractured pelvis. They were admitted to East Liverpool Hospital.

The right front of the Otto car and the right side of the Wilkins car were damaged.

FISHERMEN FINED

LISBON, July 24—Mrs. Gertrude Clark of East Liverpool and William Vietmeier of West Point, both arrested over the weekend by Game Warden Lon Boring, were fined $15 and costs each by Mayor Kenneth Hiscoc Sunday. They were charged with failing to properly display fishing licenses.

Three drivers, charged with reckless operation, were each fined $15 and costs. They are Warren A. Stewart of 542 N. Ellsworth, Walter J. Kastenhuber of 234 W. State st. and George Konnerth of 1108 Newgarden st.

Paul King of R. D. 1, Salem, was fined $10 and cost on a disorderly conduct charge and Frank King of Aetna st. forfeited $15 for his non-appearance today to face a similar charge.

2 Committees To Meet To Discuss Traffic

Members of the City Council's safety committee will meet with the traffic committee of the Salem Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in City Hall.

The two committees will discuss the Chamber's 13-point traffic program which was first presented to council last month. Copies of the recommendations were again presented at last week's session.

Truman Asks FBI Keep On Alert

Guard Against Spy Activity, He Warns

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—President Truman today ordered the Federal Bureau of Investigation to tighten its enforcement program against "espionage, sabotage and subversive activities."

In a statement, Mr. Truman said he has asked all law officers, both federal and state, to report information of spying, sabotage and subversion to the FBI where it can be "sifted out and correlated."

He added: "I suggest that all patriotic organizations and individuals likewise report all such information relating to espionage, sabotage and subversive activities to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in this same manner."

Any information which is picked up should be reported promptly to the nearest FBI field representative, the President said.

Kwangju Falls To Red Forces

TOKYO, July 24—(AP)—North Koreans hurled two tank-led assaults on separate mountain fronts today while a third Red column slithered almost to the tip of South Korea at Kwangju, near the west coast.

With the fall of Kwangju, the Reds were in position to strike behind American lines toward Pusan, key American port 100 air miles to the east. The thrust practically nullified for American use the ports of Yosu and Mokpo, to the south.

General MacArthur warned of increasing Red forces along the winding 150-mile front.

East of Taejon, a savage U. S. First Cavalry counter-attack halted a Red thrust along the mountain highway leading to Yongdong. Farther to the east in the Hamhung sector the South Korean First Corps galled back.

The Reds kicked off with tanks, then shot their infantry at American lines. The U. S. First Cavalry division, now in the battle, moved out at 10:30 a. m. (3:30 p. m. Salem time Sunday). The fight raged an hour and 15 minutes at close quarters, then the Communists broke.

Somewhere north of Yongdong in the central sector, eight North Korean tanks spearheaded 700 Red troops against the U. S. line.

Doughboys and planes knocked out five of the tanks and pinned down two others. Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert, who reported the assault, was with the 27th division last night. Presumably this outfit was fighting off the second Red attack.

As the northernmost mounted their tanks, U. S. fighters and bombers carved out at dawn in support of hard-grounded American ground troops.

Enemy Bulks Strength

The U. S. counter-thrust developed after a Communist tank attack along the mountainous, winding Taejon-Yongdong highway was stopped Sunday. That attack was unsupported by Red infantry.

The North Korean's tank-led infantry assault near Taejon today was driven back in a rolling, punishing mountain fight. The Americans gained more ground than had been yielded previously.

News of the aerial and artillery-supported assault was tempered by General MacArthur's report of a building of South Korean communist troops in "considerable strength" on the southwestern, western and central fronts.

The enemy's sweep down the west coast gave them Kwangju, only 40 miles from the peninsula's tip and about 120 miles west of Pusan—vital U. S. supply port across the peninsula.

The Red radio at the North Korean capital of Pyongyang reported Kwangju's capture. It said 1,070 South Koreans died in defense of the city.

Kwangju is a rail and highway junction. It evidently was seized by comparatively small Communist forces. In their fanatics sweep southward from Taejon they had little opposition.

Associated Press Correspondent Lee Erickson in Korea said the move could divide into a flanking thrust against the vital Pusan-Taejon rail line.

In the fighting east of Taejon, at least eight tanks were knocked out. It was a continuation of Sunday's battle in which close support was provided the U. S. infantrymen by jet and Mustang fighters and by artillery.

The Red tanks attacked Sunday without infantry support.

Field dispatches said the Americans regained more ground than they had lost before the counter blows. The Reds were reported to have suffered severe losses.

Increasing North Korean pressure was reported on the central front in the Hamhung sector, along the vital corridor leading to the American east coast beachhead. Hamhung is about 30 miles northeast, and across the mountains, from Taejon on the western plain.

SECOND MONTH OF THE KOREAN WAR is at hand. It finds the United States swinging into true wartime stride after early reverses, and the 49 countries of the United Nations readying aid. Soon a counter-offensive of real magnitude will be under way. Meanwhile, this map briefly outlines what has happened since June 25, when the Communist North Koreans struck, without warning, across the 38th parallel. Seoul fell first; then Sewon. U. S. troops were in combat July 4. The Kum River battle was a bitter one. The invaders crossed it July 14. Taejon became the battleground and fell in flames July 20. Meanwhile a dramatic amphibious landing was staged at Pohang July 19. Now, seizing the offensive for the first time, American Negro troops have recaptured the key city of Yechon. It marks the first important victory for U. S. ground forces since the start of the war to halt Communist aggression in Korea.

Home Building Cut Set For Fall

Construction Going Along At High Rate

WASHINGTON, July 24 — (INS)—The big cut in home construction—ordered by President Truman—will begin in the fall unless the Korean war bursts into a world conflict.

It will take at least several months before the full impact of the mortgage curbs are felt throughout the nation by lenders, builders and consumers.

For the immediate future, businessmen and government officials in Washington believe home building will continue at a high rate.

Despite the expected slump after September, many think at least one million new apartments and houses will be built this year. An estimated 687,000 units were started in the first six months of 1950.

The summer housing output total will depend more on the pricing and materials supply situation than on the availability of money and Mr. Truman's mortgage curbing order.

Thousands of federal housing and veterans administration loans have been approved but not yet used. It is these contracts and money from private sources that will support home construction for at least a few months.

Whether basic materials such as bricks, nails, steel, lumber and cement will be available for home building is the question. Assuming the White House is given allocation powers, the President may choose to divert these materials mostly to strategically essential activities.

In that case, home building, considered strictly non-essential, would be the loser.

THE SITUATION is not considered gloomy for builders who have started projects and are SHOWN ARE VIEWS of home construction. UPPER: After rafters have been erected, work is begun on sheathing and the roof. The house should be put under roof as soon as possible to keep it dry and get inside work started. LOWER: Carpenter nails insulation board sheathing to the outside wall joists. The material is easily cut and quickly applied.

worrying about completing, for example, a half finished house.

They should be able to do what they planned.

But those who have been arranging long-term projects are advised to take the President's action as a warning.

The chief executive's order has three implications: It is anti-inflationary and it is designed to ease the materials supply situation for military work.

Thirdly, officials believe the President wants to reduce home building so that the construction industry will be able to come to a quick stop in event of a world war.

A REDUCTION in construction is expected to increase the labor force available for defense work.

Construction workers and small contractors will not find themselves suddenly unemployed. Stepped-up military construction will keep plenty of jobs open for skilled workers and other building people.

THE ECONOMIC importance of the Federal Housing Administration is illustrated in the annual report of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

FHA commissioner Franklin D. Richards reports that in 1949 the agency approved two billion, 200 million dollars worth of home mortgages covering 316,000 dwelling units.

This was four percent above 1948 figures and brought the 15-year total amount of business to 12 billion dollars, accounting for 2,400,000 home units.

The average amount of home mortgages insured was $6,945 per unit. Of new construction it amounted to $7,160 and for improvement of existing units, $6,654.

Five Mid-West States Show Population Gain

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—The census bureau reported today a 13.75 per cent gain scored between 1940 and 1950 in the combined population of the five east north central states—Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The bureau reported preliminary counts gave the five an overall population of 30,267,729 in 1950, a 3,641,387 gain over 1940. Ohio climbed to 7,901,791 in 1950 from 6,907,612 in 1940.

place, work can proceed on the roofing cornice and gutters. Boards the same as that used in subflooring are nailed to the rafters from the low part of the roof to the peak. After this work can proceed on roof shingling. These can either be nailed or stapled with a new stapling hammer now on the market.

IF THERE is an inside chimney in the house, the hole in the roof structure to accommodate it can be covered temporarily to keep the interior dry. Shingles around the chimney can be left off until it has been constructed.

Builders and research organizations advise strongly against outside chimneys. They claim the flue in an inside chimney draws better. In case the chimney must be on an outside wall, it will be more efficient if the masonry of the exposed walls is built to eight inches.

IN BUILDING a fireplace, the interior of the fire chamber should be made of brick. The sides and back should slope to reflect heat into the room. The damper should be located to the front above the fireplace opening. All fire brick should be laid with fire clay.

To prevent water leakage around chimneys, flashing of corrosion resistant metal such as copper should be used. The flashing is built into the roofing material and extends up onto the masonry. The counter flashing is bonded into the mortar joints and is lapped down over the base flashing.

The shingling can be completed after the chimney and flashing have been put in.

Steel Mills Await Change-Over Plans

CLEVELAND, July 24—(UP)—The steel industry readied itself today for filling war orders and consequently is going slow in booking for fourth quarter shipments, the magazine Steel reported.

"Military demands will accelerate over coming weeks and because of this prospective switch to munitions, steel makers are going slow in booking for fourth quarter shipments," Steel said.

Although mills, in many cases, were being deluged with requests for tonnage, Steel said, "only a small part of this 'scarce' ordering can be accommodated and then only in minor products."

Some form of allocations or priorities is expected "quickly for the steel industry," the magazine said, although "for the present voluntary allocations will prevail, later giving way to a setup patterned somewhat after that prevailing immediately after the war."

Sheathing: How To Do It

(Third in a Series)

UNTIL recent years builders used wood sheathing for home construction. Today many are using a composition insulation board for sheathing, both in brick veneered homes and frame construction. The material, builders say, contributes to structural strength, provides insulation and is quickly, easily and cheaply applied.

After the ceiling joists and rafters have been constructed, work may begin on sheathing. Insulation board sheathing comes in sheets as long as eight feet and are nailed directly to exterior wall studs. The sheets can be cut easily with a hand saw for fitting.

IN USING wood sheathing, building paper should be applied between the sheathing and the wood siding or brick. When wood shingles are used on the exterior of the house, it is best to use wood sheathing or wood strips with insulation board as a nailing surface for the shingles.

It is a good idea to get the house under roof as soon as possible, both to keep the interior as dry as possible and to get work under way on heating, plumbing and preliminary electrical work.

As soon as the sheathing is in

They Came To Stay

Gen. MACARTHUR could be wrong; he has been wrong before. But in his judgment, there will be no United States Dunkirk in Korea. His army came to stay. Present indications are that it won't need to change its plans.

It is receiving reinforcements. Its forces are achieving balance. It has the upper hand in air power. It has the upper hand in sea power. It intends to gain the upper hand in land power.

In the lengthening view of the whole military action in Korea, it is becoming clear that the North Korean forces are beginning to have problems of logistics. Their lines of communication have become strung out and are vulnerable to bombing. They may have underestimated the resistance they would encounter. They did not achieve the "blitzkrieg" which obviously they hoped for when they launched the attack.

Gen. MacArthur speaks of the "first phase" of the battle of Korea being ended. In it the North Koreans, with the advantage of the initiative won all the skirmishes. But they did not win the battle, because the battle, which began June 25, is just now being joined. In the second phase the United Nations will have recovered the power of military decision. The invaders, instead of knowing where they intend to strike next, will have to wonder where the forces of Gen. MacArthur are going to strike next.

Armchair generals here at home, back on duty after a brief layoff, can take hope. MacArthur is an old hand at winning battles though losing skirmishes.

Fate Of Ohio Turnpike

WHETHER the Ohio turnpike will be built anytime in the foreseeable future depends on decision in Washington as to its military importance. This is the word from the state highway director. Construction must wait until it is known whether essential materials will be available.

The turnpike has a large claim on the government's favorable attention. Highways still are a major means of industrial transportation, especially in such a highly industrialized section of northern Ohio. In peacetime trucks haul much of the product of the factories. In war their use and importance becomes much greater.

One of the first steps in Hitler's plan for world domination was construction of a network of fine "autobahns" for the rapid movement of men and materials.

Ohio's present highways are no more than adequate for normal peacetime traffic. Many are in bad condition and all pass through cities and towns which slow up traffic and cause transportation snarls. An express turnpike would be of inestimable value in time of war. There is more reason now than ever why speed in its construction demands careful thought.

Fuel Featherbedding

BILLS have been introduced in Congress calling for investigation of the nation's fuel situation. They are directed particularly toward finding means of helping the nation's sick coal industry.

On the surface, it is a good idea but underlying is the danger that handshakes may be inflicted on other fuels in the effort to bolster the coal industry. Much of coal's trouble may be traced to the high-handed operations of John L. Lewis. Strikes, "holidays" and other production curtailments have driven industry and domestic coal users to seek other fuels not subject to the whims of any individual.

It would be a grave disservice to the country if unreasonable burdens were to be placed on the natural gas and oil industries in the effort to "featherbed" coal back into more favorable position. The best way to get sound sense and stability into coal mining is to let competing fuels have a reasonable chance under the free enterprise plan.

Trouble May Hit You

THERE is a touch of tragic irony and a lesson for all in the stories telling that the daughter of Basil O'Connor has been stricken with poliomyelitis. Mr. O'Connor is president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and has spearheaded the campaign for prevention and treatment of the disease almost from the very beginning of the Foundation.

It is a situation which should register in the mind of every man when he is asked to help support worthy campaigns against disease. It dramatizes most strikingly the fact that no family is immune from disease and that help in fighting and preventing these ills of mankind may pay high personal returns.

The best wishes of America are with Mr. O'Connor and his stricken daughter. Most of all they have the hopes and prayers of the thousands of families which have been aided, in just such a situation, by the great movement he headed.

Cost of Meat

By PETER EDSON

Fat Wallets Major Cause Of High Prices

WASHINGTON COMES a war or a war scare, the first place the average consumer seems to feel it is in the price of meat. The Korean incident seems to be no exception, although wholesale meat prices really started to rise about mid-June, two weeks before the North Koreans attacked. As of mid-July, wholesale meat prices were running 16 per cent above a year ago. But today's wholesale prices are still about seven per cent below the peak of September 1948.

There is some prospect that meat prices will go even higher in the next few months. Department of Agriculture meat experts say there are two reasons why this could be so, though they are making no prophecies that it will be so.

One reason is largely psychological. People get panicky. Those with deep freezes start loading up, though this isn't a good time to buy.

The second, and most important reason is that this is the normal period of reduced livestock slaughtering. Meat reserves in cold storage are usually withdrawn by the big packing houses at this time of year, to meet current demand. Prices normally advance from June to September, when the spring pig crop comes to market.

MEAT PRICES normally drop during the fall and winter months. Unless there are some new and unusual demands for meat, prices should decline again this fall. For there is no meat shortage, the experts insist. Livestock numbers are high. There are good grain crops in prospect to fatten them for market. Meat supplies in cold storage are high. The supply situation is far better than in 1941.

Up to mid-July, the Army Quartermaster Corps—which buys for all the armed services—had made no extra purchases. That situation is subject to change momentarily, however. And extra heavy Army purchases at this time could shoot the price up still higher.

With Europe's own meat supplies greatly improved in the last two years, less U. S. meat will be required for export. That should leave more for increased Army purchases and for home consumption.

All meat statistics cook down purchases to per capita consumption. For 1949, U. S. meat consumption was 146 pounds per person. It is running at about the same rate this year—maybe a little higher. Beef consumption may be down a couple of pounds to 62 per person. Veal, lamb, and mutton will be about the same—13 pounds.

PORK CONSUMPTION is running about three pounds per person higher, at 71 per year. For there is a big pig crop and the price is relatively lower. Also there is a trend towards eating "higher on the hog." Hams, loin roasts and chops sell better than bacon, fat back and jowls.

This change in eating habits has had its effect on the pig-raising business. Hogs have been marketed lighter and leaner—from 180 to 240 pounds, instead of up to 300 pounds. This, too, has had its effect on lowering the price of pork.

The spring pig crop is estimated at over 60,000,000 head. This is three per cent more than last year. It is exceeded only by the 1942 and 1943 records.

There was a heavy slaughter of beef in 1947. But herds have been built up since then and the number of cattle on feed last Jan. 1 was over 4,550,000—an all-time record.

Sheep and lamb numbers have been declining, since the war. Numbers were built up to nearly 7,000,000 head, 1942 through 1946. But on Jan. 1 sheep and lambs on feed numbered only 3,700,000.

When all's said and done, however, meat consumption and prices depend on earning power and income of consumers—not on the number of animals available for slaughter. People buy all the meat they can afford. Today's high employment and high payrolls mean a greater demand for meat and for better cuts. That's what shoots the price up, more than the war scare and the fear of shortages.

Inside Canasta

By TRUMAN TWILL

THERE are some people who say canasta, the currently popular card game, was invented in South America somewhere by a man with a hole in his head. And they have been told that the name of the game means "basket."

This goes to show how rumors get into circulation because the inventor of canasta had two heads, not one, and in each head he had not one but several holes which had been bored by investigators in search of a motive for one of the foulest crimes ever committed against Hoyle.

The FBI would like to know what is behind this plot to keep Americans in a state of uproar and bickering when the state of the union requires close attention to duty. So would the House committee on un-American activities, because there are grounds for suspicion that canasta is party-line stuff; it keeps cropping out at parties.

Furthermore, the name of the game does not have anything to do with baskets. It is derived from a Peruvian slang term whose equivalent in Americanese is "loony-bin" and can be traced to a favorite pastime of inmates of a secret insane asylum high in the Andes mountains. These wretched souls, having nothing to do and nothing to do it with except two decks of dog-eared playing cards invented canasta to keep from recovering their wits. They liked it in the asylum because they did not have to do any work there but could piddle away their lives slapping down melds and chortling over the accidental possession of red treys.

The full force of canasta still has not hit the United States. The original nut-hatches in Peru have gone the whole distance and play the game with 10 packs of playing cards which they deal out of a bushel basket, and the first side that reaches a million points wins the privilege of shaking the basket. This is probably the source of the rumor that canasta means "basket."

More than any other game which has been foisted on the victims of the 20th century, who have had enough trouble without fighting over cards, canasta brings out the slaving beast that crouches behind the facade of civilized behavior. People who would never be suspected of wanting to eat their young reveal their true inclinations when going through the bloodthirsty routines of this psychopathic pastime. It undermines friendships of many years' standing, estranges man from wife and makes dutiful offspring turn savagely against self-sacrificing parents.

Worst of all, there is nothing that can be done about it. It makes the nights hideous with shrieks and snarls and murders sleep. The only people who profit are the manufacturers of playing cards and they are beady-eyed with greed. Because the instant the first wave of madness shows signs of abatement, the manufacturers will foist the next phase of canastamania on the darn-fool public—the three-deck version—and so on until addicts of the game in the U.S.A. are no better off than the drooling idiots in that hideaway nuttery in the Andes, playing with ten packs and cackling like the lost souls they know themselves to be.

Business Boom And Defense Needs

By T. E. APPLEGATE

NEW YORK THERE'S an even chance the nation's business boom can absorb the $10,000,000,000 military spending program without critical disruption of our standards of civilian life.

It depends on how well inflation can be avoided. Price boosts would reduce the amount of goods—military or other—that a dollar will buy. And this could make the whole program much more costly.

Today no one knows to what extent present purchasing power of the dollar will be maintained. President Truman warns there will be repercussions on our domestic economy. But he also has a plan aimed at keeping them in reasonable bounds. From an economic standpoint some persons and some businesses are likely to suffer, at least temporarily.

As consumer production is cut back some workers will be out of jobs. But output of military goods will call for added manpower in other industries, such as aircraft and shipbuilding.

HERE ARE WAYS in which nearly every one will be affected: Your taxes—both individual and business—will go up. If the controls the President asks become effective, you'll find credit terms a little stiffer when you go to buy an automobile, television set or almost any other reasonable bounds. From an economic standpoint some persons and some businesses are likely to suffer, at least temporarily.

Several different diseases are being treated in an experimental way both with the adrenal secretion which is called Compound E or cortisone or by the stimulating pituitary secretion ACTH.

Both these hormones have remarkable effects, many of which are still not too well understood. Both substances are being used in the experimental study of the treatment of certain kinds of arthritis.

They are also being tried in a number of other conditions, some of which have up to this time yielded to no other form of treatment.

Medical science has known something about these glands of internal secretion and of the hormones which they produce for many years. However, the discovery of the extraordinary effects of these two hormones on many actions of the human body and on some of the body's diseases recently has caused a great deal of excitement among medical men.

As a result the tiny pituitary gland, like the two small adrenal glands, is being subjected to some of the most intensive studies which have ever been given to any portion of the human body.

It is exciting work and the investigators who are engaged in it are truly involved in new explorations as thrilling as any of those which were encountered by the explorers of new continents hundreds of years ago. (NEA Service)

How much energy a ship expends on a given trip can be measured by an electrical instrument. The device will keep a continuous check on the performance of ships' power plants, enabling operators to select the most economical speeds for the plants, and indicating when the ships should be dry-docked because of drag caused by fouled hulls.

An X-ray microscope now can show the inside of things through which light cannot pass. In other words, the new instrument can look into a bar of steel or a bar of candy.

The government's problem is to spend $10 billion without stirring an inflation that could open wide cracks in the economy.

Considerable steel, aluminum and other materials will be diverted to military use. No one yet has said how much of each will be needed. As they are diverted there will be less for civilian use.

This means less raw material to build houses, automobiles and a variety of items such as refrigerators, kitchen cabinets, radio and television sets, etc.

Reduced supply of these could upset the balance that keeps business stable, unless demand declines at the same time.

To put a checkrein on wild demand is the aim of the President's program. He seeks authority to control such main props of the business boom as consumer credit, construction and steel consumption.

THE THEORY IS: The nation's output of goods and services is at an annual rate of nearly $270 billion. If some 4 per cent of demand for these goods and services could be restrained, it would balance the military spending, even if the $10 billion is spent in a year.

Obviously some industries will supply more than others to the military program. Tanks, airplane engines, ships will require large tonnages of steel, for instance.

To assure such supplies, the President wants direct authority to establish priorities, to allocate materials, and to limit the amounts used in non-essential manufacture.

Many businessmen and industrialists disagree over the means of accomplishing this. They say: Tell us what the military needs and we'll provide it. They contend voluntary industry controls worked well in the latter days of World War II and should be used again, instead of turning the job over to a government agency. They say that priorities bogged down early in the war when federal agencies issued them without regard to total supplies available.

THE STEEL INDUSTRY is producing at an all-time record rate of around 100 million tons a year. Millions of tons could be diverted without crippling normal civilian manufacture.

And many in the industry say such diversion could best be handled by a committee set up by the industry itself.

In the housing field, where the government has moved to tighten mortgage terms, a move toward voluntary controls has been initiated.

The National Association of Home Builders this week urged its 17,000 members voluntarily to cut back their starts on new homes, which it said reached a record high of 142,000 in June.

Industry is turning out goods at a pace never before equaled. The demands of the civilian population also are at a record high. But a moderate belt-tightening could make a vast amount of productive capacity available for the military program. (AP Newscasters)

Tokyo Booms

By HAL BOTLE

U. S. Styles Are Popular

TOKYO FIVE YEARS have wrought a magical change in "MacArthurville"—which is just one nickname for Charlie Hirohito's old home town.

The industrious Japanese have done much more to reconstruct their capital than the Germans have with Berlin.

Of course, it is much easier to rebuild a wooden city than one made of stone, brick and steel. But it is also hard to escape the conclusion that the Japanese have put more heart and muscle into the task than have the Germans.

One reason probably is that they are less fearful of the future. Another reason probably is that the Japanese were less overwhelmed by the disaster of defeat. They take a solid, stolid pride in the belief they are still the first nation of the Orient.

Whatever the reason, Tokyo wears a bright new face today. In great areas gutted by five bombs in 1945 you now have to look hard to find the scars of war. The physical progress is almost unbelievable to one who saw Tokyo ruined and prostrate just five short years ago.

It is incredibly alive and booming. It is a beehive, busy by day and a garden of neon color at night. The prewar replacement of old Japanese customs by western ways has been dramatically speeded up.

FIVE YEARS AGO the streets were filthy and the people hungry and in rags. Today, the debris has all been removed. The people look healthy and better fed. Vehicles swarm everywhere—bicycles, American cars and a growing number of shiny new Japanese-made automobiles—and the parking problem is as bad as it is in almost any American city. In four days here I have seen only one horse-drawn wagon and three man-pulled rickshaws.

Department stores and the canvas covered open air stalls along the famous Ginza are stocked with every kind of merchandise. And there must be plenty of yen around as they are packed with shoppers. American style products are in particular demand.

"You ought to see the way Japanese women are snapping up fashions," said one American woman. "They all seem to want to wear them—and goodness knows most of them need 'em."

But for some reason she appeared annoyed at the eagerness with which Japanese femininity is embracing this facet of American culture. Just why I don't know.

I AM NO JUDGE as to the general quality of Japanese goods but it appears to be pretty good. At least a $5 Minkie Minkie watch I bought here is still running after four days—and it hasn't lost more than a couple of minutes a day.

Against this I must put the performance of a new Swiss portable typewriter I brought here from New York. It broke down before I could finish writing, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of Korea." But Japanese repairmen fixed it in less than 10 minutes.

I don't suppose this proves anything at all—except maybe that I am too ignorant to fix my own typewriter. But I don't think anyone who saw Tokyo in 1945 and then came back and saw it as it is today could ever make the mistake of underestimating the Japanese people. They bounce. (AP Newscasters)

Vitality With Age

Salem Man, 85,
Keeps ActiveThomas Mercer, Sr.
Enjoys Full Life

WITH VITALITY surpassing that of most men one-third his age, Thomas Mercer, Sr., 85, is building a garage as an "off-season" activity. Having waited until he had reared and provided for a family of six while a farmer near New Waterford, he has made a full-time career out of a wildlife hobby.

The frame garage is going up behind the residence of his grandson, Allan Chandler, with whom he makes his home, at 167 W. 10th st. Doing most of the carpenter work himself with help from his grandson, he expects it to be completed before the end of the month. He painted the Chandler house two years ago.

In Florida, where he spends about half a year, Mr. Mercer built a four-room and bath home by himself at Sulphur Springs, near Tampa. There he avidly follows his three loves—hunting, trapping and fishing.

Mr. Mercer suffers none of the after-effects of weekend hunters. In fact, he says, he has never been really sick and each morning awakes anxious for a full day of activity. He has "never had any time" for smoking. His eyes sparkle as he tells of outdoor experiences which would probably outshine the lot of two ordinary men's lifetimes.

Mr. Mercer recalls, as a youth, he caught a white toon. Then a cap and ball rifle was the hunter's prized equipment. After his family grew up he turned his keen eyes west and spent three years traveling throughout the West and Canada. He also has hunted big game and almost daily has added to his knowledge of wildlife lore.

Youngsters who rebel against study of textbooks, and adults who rationalize with "I'm too old," should listen to Mr. Mercer. Even now he continues his studies of wildlife, both from books and in the field, and has an honestly open philosophy of exchanging knowledge with others. Somewhere along the line he became intensely interested in snakes. In a few minutes a listener easily determines Mr. Mercer knows what he is talking about. He often speaks before an audience on this subject. To illustrate his talks, he has collected samples of venom, fangs, rattles and even live snakes.

During the World War II, he worked for the government for several years. He caught snakes and shipped them to laboratories where the venom was removed to be made into medicine to protect soldiers in snake-infested areas. He has never been bitten.

Mr. Mercer plans to drive his car down to Florida again this fall after a summer of garage-building and other activities. Canada Pays Tribute
To Mackenzie King

OTTAWA, July 24—(AP)—The world's great joined Canadians today in paying tribute to former Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King, a senior statesman of the British commonwealth who died Saturday night of pneumonia.

He will be given a state funeral Wednesday. For the 24 hours preceding, the body will rest in state in Canada's parliament.

Funeral services will be held in King's Church at Ottawa, St. Andrew's Presbyterian. Burial will be in Toronto's Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Prime minister from December, 1921, to November, 1948, the 75-year-old King had the British commonwealth's longest tenure as a chief of state. One of the first tributes came from King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, who said that the veteran liberal leader's "lifelong service to Canada will insure him a place in the history of his country and in the hearts of its people."

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—The population of the United States has risen almost 19,000,000 in the past 10 years to a 1950 total officially estimated at 150,250,000.

In announcing preliminary figures for both the nation as a whole and for the individual states, the Census Bureau said Saturday night it still must recheck the totals and account for some 700,000 persons who were on the move during this year's nose-count.

Most of the transients, it said, were either travelers within the country or seamen in the merchant marine.

While the final totals will be ready by next Dec. 1, they will not become known until later that month, when President Truman submits them to Congress. It will be up to the lawmakers to decide then how many House members each state will have on the basis of the new figures.

Reckoned roughly, each congressional district will have 344,000 inhabitants, compared with the 301,000 figure set in 1940, when the nation's population numbered 131,669,275.

California will be the big gainer in the House, although it is not yet certain how many seats.

California's gain in population amounted to an increase of 51.6 per cent over 1940, when it had 6,907,387 inhabitants. That surge carried the Pacific coast state past Pennsylvania into second place in the order of states by population.

New York held on to, first place, Ohio fifth.

SHOOTING TERMED MURDER

Army Alerts Two
Ohio Reserve Units

COLUMBUS, July 23—(AP)—Two organized reserve corps units have been alerted for active duty, army officers at Fort Hayes reported last night.

However, little information was available on the exact units and what the alert means to unit personnel.

The first in Ohio to be called, they are an ordnance unit in Cincinnati and a quartermaster unit in Dayton, officers said.

Union Picketing Aimed At Stopping Hoarding

PHILADELPHIA, July 24—(AP)—Members of the Transport Workers Union (CIO) are going to march on a new kind of picket line this week.

Andrew J. Kaelin, president of Local 234, representing 10,500 Philadelphia Transportation Co. workers, said yesterday the union will establish picket lines at retail stores to stop "scare buying" and unnecessary hoarding of food and other commodities.

The pickets will be selected from the local's 3,000 members who are veterans of both World Wars, Kaelin said.

Picket activity will be directed against customers, Kaelin said, who are creating artificial shortages by panic buying, and not against storekeepers.

YOU look at the king-size wheel-base on this strapping Buick ROADMASTER.

You look at those long Buick-tapered fenders sweeping from bumper to "double bubble" tail beacon.

You step inside and luxuriate in leg-room and hiproom and headroom generous as old-time hospitality.

You ride it—and wonder if wings were ever so soft.

You feel that big bonnetful of Fireball power whisk you from standing start to road speed with the honeyed magic of Dynaflo Drive.

And you tell yourself this is entirely too perfect.

All this automobile must be hard to handle, too big for your garage.

Good sir, just slide over and take this ROADMASTER's wheel.

Pick a curb space you'd ordinarily pass by, and back this Buick into it on your very first try.

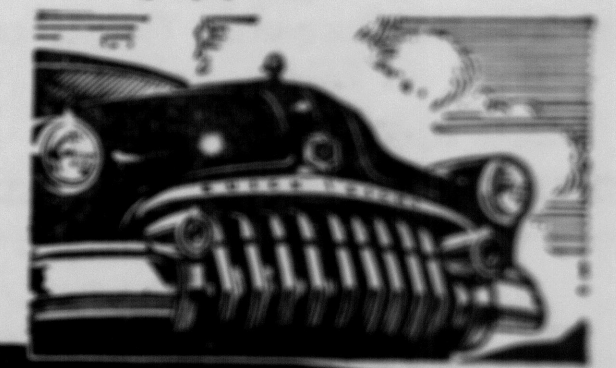

Here Buick has done a neat job of reducing over-all inches while keeping interior king-size comfort. When you wheel this whopper into your own garage, you'll be tickled pink at the room all around it.

So come on! Head for your Buick dealer's now for a tryout of a Buick ROADMASTER.

You will find it in a selection of body types, in finishes to suit a queen's taste—and at prices to make you wonder why anyone ever pays more.

Brozell-Kurtz Vows Heard
In First Friends Church

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS FILLED the First Friends Church Sunday afternoon for the beautifully appointed wedding of Miss Ruby Marie Brozell and Wilbur Henry Kurtz.

The double-ring ceremony at 2:30 was performed by Rev. Harold W. Winn, pastor, before an altar setting of greenery centered with an arrangement of white flowers and flanked with white candles in tall seven-branch candelabra.

A recital of organ selections was played by Miss Virginia Krauss, church organist. She included "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life," "Always," "At Dawning," "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "Because."

During the service, she played "I Will Pilot Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple were kneeling at the altar. "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin announced the approach of the bride who was preceded to the altar by a beautiful bridal procession.

Attire of Bride

Mr. Brozell gave his daughter in marriage. Miss Brozell was charmingly gowned in white marquisette fashioned with a sheer yoke, bertha of imported Chantilly lace, fitted bodice of satin, and the full skirt entrain was trimmed in Chantilly lace to form an apron effect in the front.

Her imported silk illusion finger-tip veil was attached to a marquisette bonnet. She wore a rhinestone necklace, the groom's gift. Her bouquet was formed of white gladioli and ribbon.

Mrs. Floyd Bishop of Landale, Pa., was matron of honor and Mr. Bishop was best man.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Earl Slagle of Greenford and Mrs. Lloyd Rose of Erie, Pa. Marlene Brozell was her sister's junior bridesmaid. Flower girls were Marilyn and Sharon Rose of Erie. Earl Slagle and Robert Shepherd, both of Greenford, ushered.

All the bride's attendants wore summer taffeta gowns in pastel shades with matching tiaras and shoulder length veils. They also carried colonial bouquets of gladioli in harmonizing colors and wore mitts to match.

Reception in Hotel

Mrs. Brozell chose a navy blue outfit for her daughter's wedding and used the same color of accessories. Mrs. Kurtz was dressed in navy print. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

The wedding reception was held in the Blue Room of the Lape Hotel. Some 250 guests came from Erie, Landale and Greenville, Pa., Cleveland, Salem and this district. The tiered wedding cake on the refreshment table was garlanded with roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brozell of Erie, Pa. A graduate of the Mill Creek High School, she is employed at the E. W. Bliss Co. office. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kurtz of R. D. 5, Salem. He graduated from Greenford High School and is employed by the Mullins Manufacturing Corp.

For a honeymoon trip to Canada, the bride was dressed in navy blue with white accessories. When Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz return they will reside at 191 W. Pershing st.

Mr. and Mrs. Brozell gave the rehearsal party Saturday evening at Barnett's. At that time the attendants were remembered with gifts.

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins she pours herself another cup of B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin, smiles as coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago... "that is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL — she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things — I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL — they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too! ... as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind

... to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

Miss Virginia Ladd Married
To Robert Edward Paxson

MISS VIRGINIA LADD AND ROBERT EDWARD PAXSON exchanged vows in a double-ring ceremony at 2 Saturday in the First Baptist Church. Rev. R. J. Hunter, the pastor, officiated at the affair which was witnessed by only the families of the couple.

On either side of the chancel entrance were artistic arrangements of greenery centered with large bouquets of white gladioli and white asters.

Mrs. Ruth Berry presented an organ recital, while the guests were being seated by Henry Juhn. Mrs. Berry included "Through The Years," "Duo Pastorale," "Ave Marie," "Elevation," "June" (Barcarolle), "Song Without Words" and "Berceuse."

She accompanied Mrs. Oliver W. Davis who sang, "I'll Walk Beside Thee" and "Because," and also played the traditional wedding march. At the conclusion of the vows, Mrs. Davis sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Ladd wore a lovely white nylon ballerina length dress styled with a Peter Pan collar, short sleeves, tucked bodice and full skirt. Her white bonnet was designed of bridal illusion and she wore fingerless mitts. She carried a white Testament topped with an orchid and showered with satin ribbon.

Howard C. Ladd of Greenville, S. C., gave his sister in marriage. Mrs. Edward D. Bremer, Jr. of Albion, Neb., was matron of honor for her sister, and her daughter, Mary Esther Bremer, was flower girl.

Mrs. Bremer's attractive dress was fashioned of brown marquisette over white with matching velvet trim. Her close fitting brown velvet hat was ornate with rhinestones and she carried a bouquet of white roses and white gladioli.

The charming little flower girl wore a white yolk of dotted swiss and a white bonnet with pink trim. Her basket was filled with mixed flowers in pink and white. She wore a gold bracelet, gift of the bride. Gayle Paxson served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Ladd was attired in sheer cocoa brown and used dark brown accessories. Mrs. Paxson's costume was of brown print with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white roses and white tube roses.

Approximately 60 relatives and friends from Salem and vicinity and Youngstown attended the reception at the bride's home. A green and white theme carried out in flowers enhanced the home. Refreshments were served from a table laid with linen and graced by a tiered wedding cake topped with a bell and a bird ornament. Mrs. Gayle Paxson and Mrs. Howard C. Ladd presided.

When the bride left on a motor trip to Denver, she was wearing an apricot-colored linen dress with copper tone accessories.

The new Mrs. Paxson is a daughter of Mrs. Esther Ladd of W. Pershing st. and the late William Ladd. She graduated from Salem High School and is employed at the Troll jewelry store.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Paxson of W. Pershing st. He graduated from Salem High School and is employed by the Salem Tool Co. They will reside at 811 Homewood ave.

Joyce Janice Somerville
Wed To Samuel C. Vance

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH was beautifully decorated with white gladioli, palms and fern for the marriage of Miss Joyce Janice Somerville and Samuel C. Vance Sunday afternoon. White candles burned in two seven-branch candelabra at the altar.

Miss Somerville is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Somerville of Washington ave. and was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Vance is the son of Rev. and Mrs. John S. Vance of New California, O. Rev. Vance performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a sheer mouseline de soie gown, featuring a high neckline with a bertha framing the yoke. The bertha, as well as the entire gown, was enhanced with embroidered Alencon lace. Lace was set in tiers throughout the skirt, terminating in a cathedral train.

Long mitts completed the bridal gown. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a sheer Juliet cap with a double tier of seed pearl detail.

The bride's bouquet consisted of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Couple's Bridal Party

Mrs. Roy Roller, matron of honor, Marie Beatty, junior bridesmaid, and Mrs. William Stoudt and Miss June Hoskinson, bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of velvety over faille. All were styled with square necklines and tiny cap sleeves with matching mitts. They were worn over old fashion hoops.

Mrs. Roller and Miss Beatty wore petal pink outfits, while the bridesmaids wore mint green. Picture hats in matching colors completed their costumes. Their arm bouquets were of shaded pink gladioli.

John Rice of Canton was the best man. The ushers were Howard R. Somerville, Jr., brother of the bride, and James R. McKittrick, both of Columbus.

Mrs. Robert Hammell, church organist, played favorite melodies of the couple before the ceremony and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. James R. McKittrick and the groom.

Mrs. Somerville chose a sheer blue print dress for the wedding and Mrs. Vance wore an aqua sheer print. Both used white accessories and wore orchid corsages.

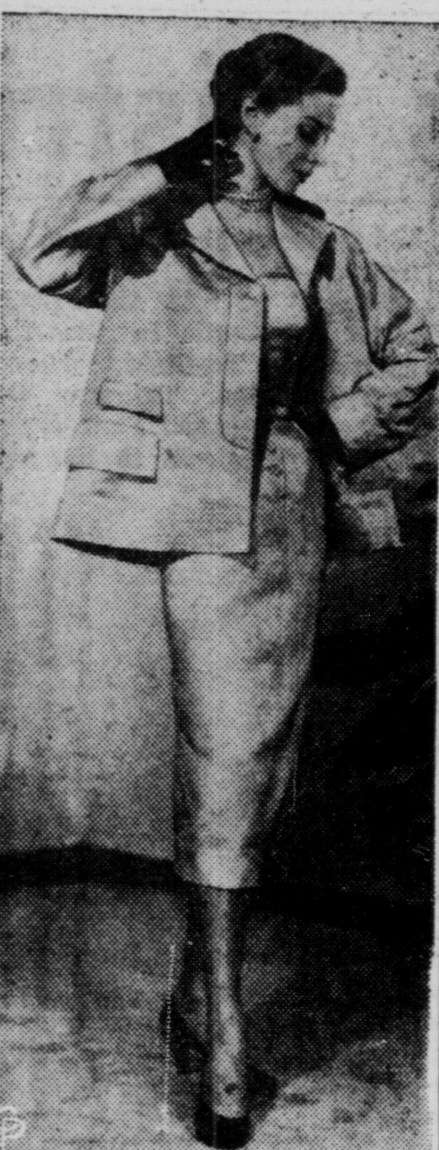

Reception at Home

A reception for 125 guests was held at the bride's home. The attendants' bouquets were placed on the refreshment table on the lawn. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom ornament backed by a bell. Mrs. Dale Wilson, Mrs. Richard Wilson, Miss Betty Lynch and Mrs. Howard Somerville, Jr. served.

Out-of-town guests were from Detroit, Akron, Milford Center, Marysville, Plain City, New California, Youngstown, Cleveland, and Columbus.

For a wedding trip through the East, Mrs. Vance wore a navy nylon dress with white accessories, a picture hat and the orchid from her bouquet. The couple will reside at 737 1/2 E. Capitol st., Columbus. Both are employed by the F. & R. Lazarus Co.

The bride graduated from Salem High School, Salem Trades Extension Class and attended Western Reserve University. Mr. Vance is a graduate of New California High School and attended Westminster College and Ohio State University.

Mary Lou Vincent
To Marry On Aug. 6

A SUPPLY of linen was showed on Miss Mary Lou Vincent at a surprise party Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest Breit on Cleveland st.

Miss Vincent and Kenneth Jack Duncan of Bowling Green will be married at 3 Sunday, Aug. 6, in the sanctuary of the Presbyterian Church. Custom of open church will be observed. A pre-nuptial organ recital will be presented starting at 2:30 by Miss Marguerite Vincent, sister of the bride-to-be.

Twenty-two guests, including Mrs. Milian Oversia of New York City and Miss Julia Beardsley of Ellsworth, were entertained by Mrs. Breit, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Charles Ressler. Mrs. Ressler arranged the beautiful floral decorations throughout the home and dressed the tiny bride doll which was between the flowers on the buffet.

The gifts for Miss Vincent were placed beneath a blue and white umbrella, and small plastic umbrellas in pastel shades and filled with candy were given as favors.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Kezia Wilson and daughter, Marian, of Hawley ave have returned from a motor trip over the Skyline Drive and through southern states. They visited Mrs. Wilson's nephew, Myron Crawford, stationed at the Marine base at Yorktown, Va., and spent some time with their cousin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Martin of Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. John Batcha, Jr., and daughter, Debbie Ann, of Salem are making their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Battalio, at 231 Fourth st., N. W., New Philadelphia, while their husband and father, John Batcha, is attending officers candidate school at Lackland Airforce Base at San Antonio, Tex. Mrs. Batcha will join her husband later.

Daily Dozen

By BOB DIXON

- Television addicts, that tribe which has abandoned reading, conversation and movies, will be in for some nice football treats this fall.
- A good number of college grid games will be televised this season, along with several pro games. One of the best to be seen will be the Eagles-Browns game on Sept. 16, coming out of Philadelphia.
- That classic tussle will not be seen by TV audiences within a 150-mile radius of the Quaker City, but all of us in Ohio will get the game. That system seems to solve the problem of decreased attendance due to sit-at-home viewers.
- The game will still draw around 100,000 fans and many more will see the thing at a distance.
- In the past two years there has been little football on television, although it is one of the easiest sports to catch on the TV camera.
- Notre Dame is planning to screen its games, figuring that you can't do any better than fill the stadium, so why not let the peasants watch.
- Fishing facts reported tardily: Atty. Henry Reese landed a whopping big muskallunge at Rice Lake, Ontario, Canada, about two weeks ago. The fish measured 47 inches and weighed over 28 pounds.
- Of more interest than the dimensions is the way Henry landed the giant. He hooked the fish in the fatty tissue on its back.
- The fish, feeling no pain, had to be babied and played on the line for 45 minutes before Reese got him up to the boat. He couldn't possibly "horse" on the line, for the musky would have taken off and broken it.
- Chief of Police Nerr Gaunt rated an assist on the catch by expertly gaffing the fish as it came alongside. A quick whack on the head with a club and the musky was peacefully put to sleep.
- Reese is having the head mounted (the fish, not Gaunt's) and is rather proud of it.
- In the same party, Ralph Carnahan of Salem landed a 40-inch, 22-pound musky. It was hooked in the standard way.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

EVERY time I write a piece like this owner Horace Stoneham, if he happens to see the piece somewhere, gets so mad he could bite nails. But let's be honest; the New York Giants are a disgrace to their heritage.

Stoneham is one of the nicest men in baseball, and in the 15 years or more that I have known him we have never had a cross word. But, as so often pointed out here, the New York Giants have a background to live up to and they have not been doing it for years. They have failed to live up to what the name Giants means and they have failed to be the kind of ball club you would expect to be representative of the biggest and greatest city in the world.

The New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers are truly great, strictly on their performances in the last few years. They have won their share of pennants. The Giants continue to flounder and stutter and get nowhere and their apologists by this time have run out of words.

No Answers

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

COUPLE of provocative questions from guys who might know something but aren't saying how much they know: "Why not ask the baseball commissioner if there are any investigations of clubs suspected of dealing under the table on bonuses?"

P. S. we've heard several hints from other baseball men that "other" clubs might be guilty: "How many colleges received NCAA reprimands for dickering with St. Louis University football players after the Billiken football team folded?"

P. S. No. 2: We didn't think the St. Louis grid players were that good—If anybody knows the answers, we're listening. But its obvious that A. B. Chandler isn't going to advertise that his sleuths are after someone and that the NCAA prefers to do its reprimanding in private.

A couple of Texas football fans were discussing Jo Watson's chances of making good with the Detroit Lions this fall and one recalled when Baylor's light backs were trying to gain through the middle of the Rice line—after encountering Watson a few times, one Baylor lad retreated to the huddle and asked plaintively: "Don't you think we should try some end sweeps?"

That brought up Froggy Williams' description of how he played end on defense: "I charge into the backfield as hard as I can and try to tear up the play as much as I can—Then I listen for the sound of Watson making the tackle."

Lemon Bags Win No. 15 Over Nats

Detroit's Late Runs Save First Place Spot

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Indians, who have just completed their first victorious eastern road trip of the season, return to Cleveland tomorrow for a three-game series against Philadelphia.

They play an exhibition against Brooklyn today.

Behind the pitching of Bob Lemon yesterday, the Tribe ran its record for this trip to eight wins and four losses by dumping the Nats at Washington, 6-2.

The Tribe scored all its runs in the first three innings, allowing Lemon to coast to his 15th win of the season.

By winning two thirds of their games this trip, the Indians moved up to within three and a half games of the leading Detroit Tigers and to within two games of second place New York.

Cleveland lost its first eastern road trip of the season, 4-6, and the second, 5-6.

THE TRIP The Indians split a two-game series with New York and a four-tilt series at Boston. Then they beat Philadelphia three straight times and bested Washington two of three games.

Al Rosen played yesterday's game despite a nose broken Saturday when he chased a foul ball. Although his nose was puffed and his vision slightly affected, the third baseman made six assists without error and got one hit in four chances.

Lemon, who has not been beaten since June 20, now has a string of seven wins without defeat. He was not charged July 2 although he pitched six and two-thirds innings of a game the Indians lost to Detroit.

Curt Simmons recorded his 13th victory yesterday as the Phils cooled off the Cincinnati Reds in a doubleheader and gained undisputed possession of first place.

The $65,000 bonus beauty turned back the Reds, 12-4, in the opener. The Phils took the second, 7-4, behind Russ Meyer and Jim Konstanty to snap their tie with the St. Louis Cardinals for the top rung. The Cards beat the Boston Braves, 8-4, in a single encounter.

Lefty Al Brazle, with help in the ninth from Harry Brecheen, stopped the Braves on 12 hits, the same number the Cards secured off Bob Chipman and Bucky Walters. The Cards however backed up Brazle with four doubleplays.

THE LOSS dumped the Braves from third to fourth place, with the Brooklyn Dodgers moving up. The Dodgers outslug the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-6.

Sheldon Jones, knocked out in each of his last four starts, turned in the pitching gem of the day—a 3-0, one-hit victory for the New York Giants over the Chicago Cubs in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Giants also won the first game, 5-3, with Wes Westrum knocking in three runs, one on his 16th homer. Larry Jansen went the distance to gain his 10th victory.

In the equally close American League pennant scramble, the pace-setting Detroit Tigers staged a two-out ninth-inning rally to whip the runner-up New York Yankees, 6-5. A victory by the Yanks, who won the first two games of the series, would have enabled them to take the lead.

With two down and a man on, Hoot Evers, Gerry Priddy and Don Kolloway singled to turn the tide. Allie Reynolds yielded the first two hits and Kolloway's game-winning blow came off Joe Page.

The Boston Red Sox whipped the St. Louis Browns, 6-2. Ellis Kinder went all the way to gain his 10th conquest.

Philadelphia vacated last place in favor of the Browns by taking a twin bill from the Chicago White Sox, 2-1 and 5-4.

Snead's 65 Salvages Tie With Jim Ferrier

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 24 (AP)—It was chip shots against putting as Sam Snead and Jim Ferrier met today in a playoff for first place in the St. Paul $15,000 open.

Snead's ability to place chip shots where they would do the most good brought him a seven-under-par 65 yesterday in the final 18 holes of the scheduled 72 hole tourney. And it was Ferrier's putting that kept him in the running, although a lapse cost him a chance to win first prize.

The two wound up tied at 276 yesterday. Ferrier carded a one-under-par 71 for the 6,557-yard course. They were two strokes ahead of their nearest competition, British Amateur champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo and Jerry Barber, Philadelphia club pro.

Stranahan shot a 71 for low amateur honors in the tourney, while Barber collected third money of $1,400 after his par 72.

One stroke behind Stranahan and Barber at 279 were Skip Alexander of Knoxville, Tenn., and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago. Alexander shot a 73 yesterday and Mangrum a 70. Tied at 281 were Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., who shot a 73; Joe Cordia of St. Paul who had a 69, and Ed Oliver of Seattle, Wash., and Tommy Bolt of Durham, N. C., both with 70s.

Citation Lane; May Not Be In Arlington

CHICAGO, July 24 (UP)—The racing world buzzed with the rumor today that Citation is sick. The mighty horse may chance Saturday to boost his total earnings past the $1,000,000 mark. They now total $938,630.

But Trainer Jimmie Jones indicated the big bay may not run in the $75,000 Arlington Handicap at Arlington Park.

Jones said he didn't know if the horse would be scratched, but indicated he was not satisfied with Citation's mile workout Saturday between the fifth and sixth races. "Cy" turned the course in a slow 1:45-4/5 and some onlookers said he pulled up lame.

They said the horse lacked his usual zest, even when prodded by Jockey Freeman McMillan.

But, as is frequently the case around race tracks, there was difference of opinion. Other railbirds said his gait was normal and that no lameness was apparent.

Squeeze Play Beats Massillon

Locals Win 3-2 Game In Ninth At Canton

Their long struggle ended, the Salem Junior Legion team members are able to relax now and look back on their thrilling 3-2 victory over Massillon last Saturday in the district baseball final at Canton.

For now they are district champions and will participate in the state finals at Columbus starting July 31.

The win over Massillon was a beautiful thing. Twice Salem came from behind to tie the score at 1-1 and 2-2 and didn't move ahead until they scored the winning run in the last of the ninth.

Bobby Theiss, who pitched seven hit balls for the winners, scored the first run in the fifth after he walked. He moved to second on a passed ball and tallied on Bob Coy's line single. Baird led off in the eighth with a single, was sacrificed to second by Oesch, moved to third on an infield out and scored on Birkhimer's single.

Theiss, who walked in his first four trips to the plate, opened the ninth by crashing a long triple over the right fielder's head. The Massillon board of strategy then walked Coy and Jim Cosgarea to load the bases. With the infield in, Tommy Boone dragged a bunt past the pitcher.

The second baseman fielded the ball and poured it home, but Theiss slid across with the winning run. Massillon's coaches charged the umpire, claiming he was out, but the decision stood.

The team will play at Columbus on July 31, competing in two games each day until only one of the 14 teams is without two losses. Drawings for the tourney will be made next Sunday.

Sunday, the Legion easily rolled over Columbiana, 16-3, at Firestone Park in a summer league tilt, with Gordon Birkhimer pitching five-hit ball.

The pitcher hit a single and triple, Weingart had three singles, Coy a double and two singles and Boone a big home run and two triples.

Tuesday at 5:30 the Legion plays New Castle in the final game of the Tri-State tourney at East Palestine. Thursday they play at Centennial Park against North Georgetown in the summer league.

Poland Polo Club Defeats Salem 10-7

Salem's Polo Club had better schedule three chukker games with Poland from now on. A week ago they led Poland at the halfway mark only to lose in the final periods.

Sunday on the local field they took a 3-2 lead at the end of the third period and then wilted to take a 10-7 beating in the last three chukkers.

Poland picked up three goals in the fourth, two in the fifth and three more in the sixth period. Salem got three in the fifth and one more in the final.

Taylor led the winners, with a four goal barrage, while Smolin notched three and Kimmell two.

What a stepper!

Just hint to the gas pedal and she steps out like no other low-priced car. And that's true whether you're driving a Ford V-8 or "Six". But this high-stepper is a low spender when it comes to costs. You can own a V-8, for example, for hundreds less than most "Sixes"—and a Ford "Six" for even less.

What a stopper!

This '50 Ford actually helps you apply the brakes. They're 35% easier-acting King-Size Brakes that use car momentum to help you stop. Like Ford's extra-rugged "Lifeguard" Body, they give you the kind of protection you'd expect only of costliest cars. And for added safety and comfort, you ride low and level in the "Mid Ship" section of the car, between the wheels—not over them. You're cradled in comfort on "Hydra-Coil" front springs and "Paraflex" rear springs that give a road-hugging smoothness truly amazing.

What a looker!

Yes, again in '50, Ford received the Fashion Academy Gold Medal as "Fashion Car of the Year." And Ford's stay good looking because their baked-on finish is "made to live outdoors." That means high resale value which, together with Ford's low running costs, puts Ford further out front as America's savingest car.

And what a saver—
all the way!

Lisbon Golfer Gets Ace Here

Shoots Hole-In-One
On Salem's No. 6 Hole

The sixth hole-in-one in the history of the Salem Golf Club was converted Sunday afternoon by Ed W. Thomas of Lisbon, who usually plays at East Palestine.

He banged his tee shot with a No. 4 iron on the 140-yard No. 6 hole. The ball popped out of the green and rolled into the cup, amid loud cheers from his companions.

The last ace carded at Salem was in 1947 on the same hole, made by Gus Sprenger.

The weekend tournament, a four-ball, best-ball affair, was captured by the team of Walt Hartsock, Walt Deming, Dr. F. R. Crowe and Lester Kille. They had a score of 66-11-55.

Second place went to Twing Seeds, Jim Kelley, Bill Hannay and Dave Miller, with 71-14-57. R. E. Moffett, Jim Hyink, Al Konnerth and Bud Hone took third, shooting 73-15-58.

A late afternoon Scotch four-some tournament was won by Mrs. Walt Hartsock and Bob Buckholdt, who had low gross scores of 44. Low net score of 34 was turned in by Mrs. George Jones and Karl Ramsden and Mrs. Al Moser and Twing Seeds.

Merchants Blasted By East Palestine

Hammered for 19 hits while committing six errors afield, the Salem Merchants went down hard before East Palestine 23-8 in a County League game Sunday on the winner's field.

Salem used four pitchers, but couldn't stem the tide of base hits. All but two players in the Palestine lineup hit safely.

The Merchants play Tuesday evening at Greenford and entertained Negley here in a league contest.

Having the youngest team in the league, the Merchants have lost two players to the armed service. Jim Barnes, pitcher, and Ed Stefani have both enlisted in the Air Corps.

FISH STORY—Mate Joe Devaux of Valley Stream, N. Y., became a bit envious of the paying customers on his fishing boat and dropped a line over the side. Almost instantly he got a bite, pulled in this prize 535-pound tuna 20 minutes later.

New Wing Dedicated At Baseball Shrine

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. July 24 (AP)—A new $175,000 wing to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum was opened formally today by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

Ford Frick, National League president, and Will Harridge, American League president, joined in the ceremonies, along with George Trautman, head of all minor leagues.

This pretty little upstate New York town was jammed for the gala occasion and for the annual game at Doubleday Field, pitting the Boston Red Sox of the American League against the New York Giants of the National League.

The wing, which makes an "L" shaped building out of the Hall of Fame, was completed in March, and has been open to the public in recent weeks. Today's ceremonies, consisted in the dedication and the cutting of a red, white and blue ribbon stretched across the doorway.

One of the rooms in the new wing is crowded with exhibits pertaining to Babe Ruth.

Browns Work Out

BOWLING GREEN, July 24 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns started practice here today for their first season as a member of the National Professional Football League.

The Browns, who led the defunct All-American Football conference the four years it existed, are looking for a linebacker to replace Lou Saban and a pair of guards to replace Bob Guadio and Eddie Ulinski.

Paul Brown has 10 halfback candidates and one will have to fill the vacancy left by Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones who had to quit because of a shoulder separation.

The Browns first exhibition game will be Aug. 12 at Toledo against the Green Bay Packers.

The latest supplement to the American Stud Book shows that of the record crop of foals of 1948, a total of 4,003 are fillies and 3,998 are colts.

NAME NEW COACH

MOUNT VERNON, July 24 (AP)—Ralph Hinger, 22, of Chicago, has been named basketball coach at St. Vincent De Paul High School here. He succeeds Andy Sobek, who resigned. Hinger was a varsity basketball player at Notre Dame University, graduating last June.

Though winner only once in 26 outings last year, the 10-year-old gelding, Clark Hanover, was the first to enter the winner's circle when the new Yonkers, N. Y., raceway opened last spring.

The Philadelphia Phillies infield averages 25 years of age as compared with Brooklyn's 29. The Phillies' average age for its eight regulars is 26, Brooklyn's 28.

Prisoners Say Korean Army Not Too Happy

AN ADVANCE COMMAND POST IN KOREA, July 24—(AP)—South Korean troops today captured two barefoot North Korean soldiers in filthy mustard colored uniforms. One captive is 19, the other 31. This is what the Reds said:

They were foraging for food. The North Korean army is living off the country—but not well.

American air strikes have undercut northern morale—except for the Korean Labor party (Communist) members who still are riding a high emotional jag.

The soldiers big gripe: The pay is 15 won monthly (almost one cent).

Christianized Europe Called Key To Peace

CLEVELAND, July 24—(AP)—The Baptist World Congress was told today that if Europe were thoroughly Christian, the problems of the world would be on the way to a solution.

Rev. Walter O. Lewis of London, associate general secretary of the Baptist World Alliance, spoke as the third day of the five-day meeting opened. More than 20,000 persons from 48 countries are attending.

FAMILY MEETS IN POLIO WARD.—The crowded polio ward at Parkland Hospital at Dallas, Tex., sees some strange sights these days. Mrs. Patricia McGrew of Lancaster, Tex., (in iron lung) is visited by her sons, Mike, 4, (center) and Pat, 2. All are stricken with polio. The boys have recovered enough to be ready for treatment of baths and packs, but their mother still fights for her life. The nurse is Miss Eve Imig.

Obituary

Mrs. Harry Schaber

COLUMBIANA, July 24—Mrs. Jeannette M. Schaber, 79, wife of Harry Schaber, died at 6:10 a. m. today at her home, 216 Pittsburgh st, after a long illness.

She was born April 8, 1871 in Salem Township, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lodge. She was married in 1901 to Harry Schaber who survives at the home.

Mrs. Schaber was a member of the Columbiana Church of the Nazarene. Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Labana Hetric of Columbiana; a sister, Mrs. Opal Farrell of Akron; three brothers, Lawrence Lodge of Lisbon, Raymond Lodge of Leetonia and Oscar Lodge of Alliance; 16 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 Wednesday at the Church of the Nazarene, with Rev. Arthur Brown officiating. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery. Friends may call at the Warwick funeral home in Columbiana Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Allen Brantingham

Funeral services will be held in Toledo today for Mrs. Elizabeth Brantingham, 88, a former resident of Winona, who died Friday. She had been suffering from a broken hip received in a fall recently.

Surviving are a sister-in-law, Mrs. Sina B. Megrair of Winona; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Elrod of Toledo; and two sons, Paul of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Chauncey of Kansas City, Kan.

Mrs. Belle Butler

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Belle Butler, 70, of Mingo Junction today at 2:30 in the Martin funeral home, East Liverpool. Burial will be in the Lisbon Cemetery.

Mrs. Butler died Friday at 5:20 p. m. in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Earley of Mingo Junction. She leaves three sons, John and George of Steubenville and Thomas of Newell; three brothers, Alex Easton of Canton and George and Walter Easton of Lisbon; a sister, Mrs. Jennie Conner of Youngstown, and nine grandchildren.

Nicola Speranza

Nicola Speranza, 55, of Thomas st, East Palestine, died at 8:10 p. m. Saturday at City Hospital. He entered the hospital April 24 for surgical treatment.

Charles E. Garman

ALLIANCE, July 24—Charles E. Garman of 461 Waugh st, died at 11:50 a. m. Saturday at City Hospital here as the result of injuries sustained in a fall from a cherry tree July 11.

A retired farmer and custodian at the Alliance library for almost 25 years, he was born July 1, 1866 in Knox Township. His parents came to this country from Switzerland in 1840 and Mr. Garman, the last of 18 children, had lived in this area all of his life. He was a member of the Emmanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Survivors include his wife, Ella, a daughter, Mrs. Clair Willis of Alliance, a son, R. L. Garman of Elizabethtown, Ky., and five grandchildren. Several nieces and nephews live in and around Salem.

Funeral service will be held at 2 Wednesday at the Canaday and Tuckle funeral home here, with Rev. Robert Diller officiating. Burial will be in Fairmount Cemetery in Alliance.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

Missing Sharon Man Believed In Area

A Sharon, Pa., man, missing from his home since Feb. 11, is believed to be in the vicinity of Salem.

Sharon police said that a man answering the description of Michael Yoke, 45, was seen on Route 45, five miles south of Warren, where he said he was heading for Salem.

When last seen, Mr. Yoke was wearing a gray work jacket, dark blue trousers, brown shoes and a dark blue hat. He is described as five feet 10 inches tall and has grayish brown eyes and thinning gray hair.

His son, Michael Yoke, Jr., believes his father may be working as a laborer in some rural area. He asks person knowing the whereabouts of his father to notify him by calling Sharon 3275.

New Jury Selection System Now In Use

CHARDON, July 24—(AP)—Geauga County is joining Summit, Portage, Ashtabula and other counties in using a new system to choose persons for jury service.

Prospective jurors are selected from poll books by key number given by the judge and are all sent questionnaires which cover age, education and such questions as whether the person has been arrested and whether he will swear allegiance to the United States.

With the return of the questionnaire the name of every person who qualifies is placed in a wheel to be drawn out in the usual manner.
